Revitalist Addresses Opioid Epidemic Through Non-Medicative Interventions with TMS Representing a $195 Billion USD Market

VANCOUVER, BC, April 5, 2022 – REVITALIST LIFESTYLE AND WELLNESS LTD. (Revitalist” or the Company”) (CSE: CALM) (OTCQB: RVLWF) (FSE: 4DO) continues to advance in innovative solutions maximizing revenue opportunities. Revitalist’s division of pain experts have developed additional service lines to address pain and avoid unwanted addictions by now offering a non-medicative approach with Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation also known as “TMS”.

Researchers have estimated more than 50 million Americans suffer with chronic pain. The opioid epidemic coupled with lack of access for safe, evidenced-based interventions continues to cause an increase in illicit drug use, overdoses, and death costing society more than $1.3 trillion USD annually. “With urgent intervention, 1.2 million people in the U.S. and Canada will die from opioid overdoses by the end of the decade, in addition to more than 600,000 who have died since 1999,” according to a February 2022 report from the Stanford-Lancet Commission on the North American Opioid Crisis.

Kathryn Walker, CEO, reports, “Without urgent intervention we will lose millions of loved ones. We have the capability to act now bringing necessary access and revenues to our communities and company allowing both to flourish.”

Revitalist will now offer TMS services addressing pain conditions (along with mental health conditions) utilizing their unique skillset of translational medicine to a direct population of more than 1 million individuals in need of these services.

Revitalist will offer these services at five of their ten locations including:

Louisville, Kentucky

Knoxville, Tennessee

Chattanooga, Tennessee

Johnson City, Tennessee

Raleigh, North Carolina
